SUBJECT: Weekly Activities Report #40, 2 - 8 November 1960

1. Intelligence Review Course

B Intelligence Review #1 ended on 4 November. In their critiques, the students agreed that the course filled an important gap in the Agency's training program. Most of them approved the present content and objectives of the course. A report on the course is being prepared, which will include an analysis of the critiques. Many of the guest speakers expressed appreciation of their opportunity to participate in this type of course.

2. Security Officers' Orientation Course

The four-and-half day Security Officers Course began on 2 November. The Orientation Faculty designed this course to meet the specific needs of the students, all of whom are experienced field security investigators generally unfamiliar with the current organization and functions of CIA. They appreciated the privilege of a special course, worked hard, and asked more questions than most other groups of students usually do.

3. Intelligence Orientation

Forty-three students are enrolled in Intelligence Orientation #42 which begins on 14 November.
